WHY?
Financial companies choose how they share your personal information. Federal law gives consumers the right to limit some but not all sharing. Federal law also requires us to tell you how we collect, share, and protect your personal information. Please read this notice carefully to understand what we do.

WHAT?
The types of personal information we collect and share depend on the product or service you have with us. This information can include:
- Social Security number and employment information
- Transaction history and account balances
- Credit history and payment history

When you are no longer our customer, we continue to share your information as described in this notice.

HOW?
All financial companies need to share customers’ personal information to run their everyday business. In the section below, we list the reasons financial companies can share their customers’ personal information; the reasons F&M chooses to share; and whether you can limit this sharing.

Who we are

| Who is providing this notice? | The Farmers & Merchants State Bank (F&M) |

What we do

| How does F&M protect my personal information? | To protect your personal information from unauthorized access and use, we use security measures that comply with federal law. These measures include computer safeguards and secured files and buildings. Employee access is on a need-to-know basis. Access may be granted for internal security, fraud prevention or to protect customer rights. |
| How does F&M collect my personal information? | We collect your personal information, for example, when you
- Open an account or make a deposit or withdrawal
- Apply for a loan or make a loan payment
- Use your credit card or debit card
We also collect your personal information from others, such as credit bureaus, affiliates, and other companies. |
| Why can’t I limit all sharing? | Federal law gives you the right to limit only
- sharing for affiliates’ everyday business purposes - information about your creditworthiness
- affiliates from using your information to market to you
- sharing for nonaffiliates to market to you
State laws and individual companies may give you additional rights to limit sharing. |

Definitions

| Affiliates | Companies related by common ownership or control. They can be financial and nonfinancial companies.
- Our affiliates include companies with a common corporate identity of F&M; financial companies such as FM Investment Services. |
| Nonaffiliates | Companies not related by common ownership or control. They can be financial and nonfinancial companies.
- F&M does not share with nonaffiliates so they can market to you. |
| Joint marketing | A formal agreement between nonaffiliated financial companies that together market financial products or services to you.
- Our joint marketing partners include credit card companies and insurance companies. |

Other important information

Important notice regarding credit reporting: We may report information about your account(s) to credit bureaus or consumer reporting agencies. Late payments, missed payments, or other defaults on your account(s) may be reflected in your consumer report (also called a credit report).
